WE NEED YOU

... is the current TV pitch of "we don't need money; we need you" holds partially true in Hondo as far as the Emergency Ambulance Program is concerned.

The program does need YOU. The program is one of necessity, but to be able to operate, it must have VOLUNTEERS for drivers and attendants.

YOU can be an important part of a program that provides a most necessary service to your community.

If YOU are interested, fill out the application blank on page 2 of this week's Anvil Herald and turn it in -- and become a VOLUNTEER to help your community.

THE TEXAS CONSTITUTION

... will have to be a durable one even if it survives the Constitutional Commission, the Constitutional Convention and the public vote.

This hodge-podge of original writings plus many amendments undergoes constant criticism even when there are no plans to revise it. And justly so, for Texans have gone to so many quilting parties to patch on amendments in the past 100 years that it cannot help but resemble a patchwork quilt.

Last week, I attended the annual meeting of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce and on Friday had the privilege of hearing a panel of distinguished people discuss our present attempt to re-write our constitution and I found them to be extremely informative. As far as I can remember and read the notes I wrote down, they had this to say:

Leon Jaworski

A member of the Constitutional Revision Commission, Jaworski is a distinguished member of the law profession. He said, in part:

"This has been a monumental effort on part of the 37-member Commission. We did hold meetings throughout the state and get grass root input from the people. Right now what remains to be done is polishing of rhetoric and elimination of some verbiage.

"We do not labor under the illusion that the Convention will adopt it in toto. But we believe it is a document that will give them a vehicle to work from. This proposed document is about one fourth the length of the present Constitution and it is estimated to contain between 13-14,000 words.

"Yes, we have cut much material from the present document. But much of this will not be discarded. It will not go in the wastebasket, but will be placed in a transition schedule and recommended as statutory regulations.

Asked about whether Justices of Peace will be retained in the new document, Col. Jaworski said "Yes. Much thought was given to the elimination of this office, but it all boiled down to the fact that it is needed. There are many jobs performed by the Justice of the Peace that would otherwise not be performed or placed as an extra burden on other officials. And this especially holds true in the smaller cities and rural areas.

"Then, too, the present day Justice of the Peace is not the same man who held the position, say 20 to 30 years ago. He is better trained, not only by his own efforts, but through Legislative edict."

Senator Nelson Wolff

Senator Wolff is chairman of the Senate Arrangements Committee.

"We have done much work toward planning this Convention, which will convene on January 8. The Louisiana Legislature at this time is studying a revision of that state's constitution and we have made several trips to Baton Rouge to obtain advice and information.

"I am optimistic about putting out a good document in a reasonable period of time. You have heard and read that it will be impossible for the Senate and House to work together on this document. Well, our committees have gotten along fine and we hope to have our report ready by mid-November and can put it into operation when the entire Legislature meets on December 6-7-8 to hear all these reports.

Dr. Janice May

Dr. May is a member of the Constitutional Revision Commission and is considered one of the foremost constitutional authorities in the nation.

"As you have noted from the reports on our Commission and sub-committee meetings we 37 have not been of one mind. In fact, with the differences expressed in our meetings you can't say we were a 'stacked' commission.

"But even with the differences, I feel this is the best proposed constitution in the country.

"I was on the finance committee and we had our work cut out for us. Our constitution definitely is a fiscal document, with so many details dealing with financial matters. For instance, our present constitution forbids our state from going in debt, but at the present time our state is more than $1 billion dollars in debt.

"We propose to continue our present 'pay as you go' system on state spending and believe this will continue to bring fiscal responsibility on the Legislature and the Governor.

"Taxation is a complicated problem and we could not have come up with a solution in the document. That is why with a little re-writing we left the matter of taxes up to the legislature.

"It has been said that most of the proposed constitutions passed by conventions like the one we will have in Texas next year have been turned down by the voters. But that isn't completely true. Some have failed, but also some mighty fine documents have been approved by voters of other states and I feel we have a good document."

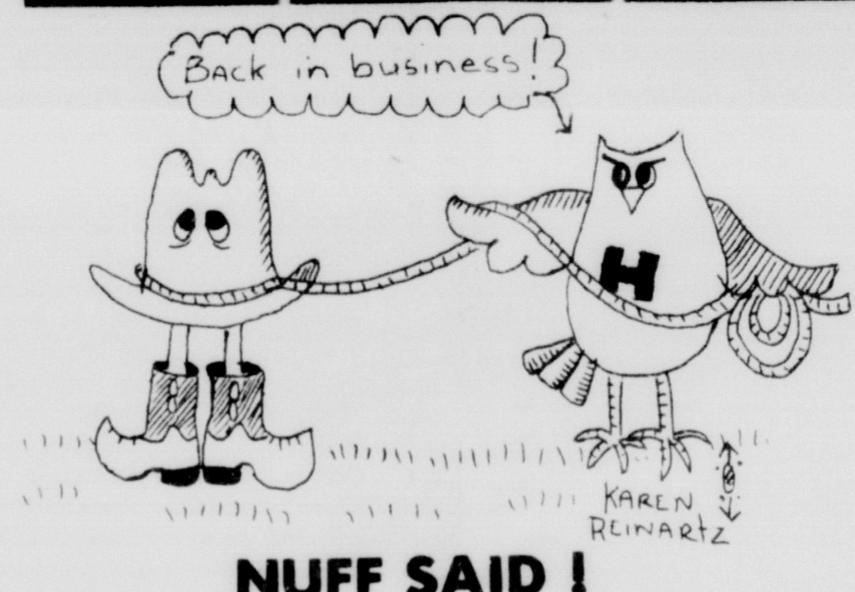

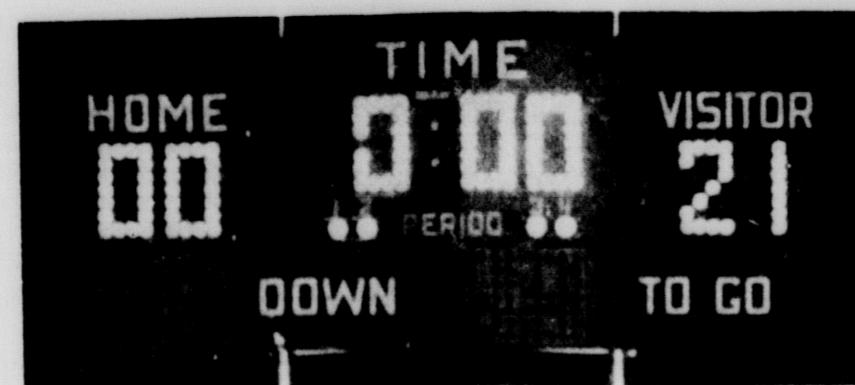

Representative DeWitt Hale

Representative Hale is chairman of the House Arrangements Committee.

"The mechanics of running a Constitutional Convention are monumental. Many questions arise on how to accomplish the multitude of tasks that must be accomplished for the Convention to run smoothly. I don't know if we will approve a document or not, but we will have one of the best planned conventions ever held, and this will improve the chances of doing the best job possible.

"I am not overly optimistic about us putting together a document that the people will adopt. I am not optimistic about adopting a document that could be an improvement over the present constitution. In fact, the more I read about the proposals made by the Commission and the trouble they have had in passing

First ever

Agribusiness Seminar slated

Agribusiness leaders will gather at the New Frontier Restaurant Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week to attend the first Agribusiness Seminar ever to be held in Hondo and Medina County.

Co-sponsored by the County Extension Service and the Agribusiness Committee of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, the Seminar is open to 40 agribusiness leaders in Medina County.

Kenneth Wolf and Dr. Wayne Hayenga, both economists and agribusiness specialists at Texas A&M University, will present the program which will get underway at 7 p.m. on Tuesday and 6 p.m. on Wednesday. Reason for the early start on Wednesday is a steak supper.

At the University Wolf and Hayenga give leadership to educational activities designed to improve managerial skills of agribusiness owners and managers.

They also work with the development of training programs for Extension personnel in supervisory positions. Both have been active in private business as well as in educational activities.

At the first night meeting H. C. Niethoefner, chairman of Chamber Agribusiness Committee, will serve as MC. Following a welcome by Burnis Lawrence, chamber president, the program will open with Kenneth Wolf discussing "Selecting a New Product of Service to Add to a Going Agribusiness."

Methods and techniques for determining whether a new product or service should be added will be developed. And a do-it-yourself market survey technique will be outlined.

In the second portion of the program, Dr. Hayenga will discuss "How to Determine the Profitability of a New Product or Service."

Here techniques for determining the profitability of the new product or service as a possible addition to a business firm will be discussed.

On Wednesday, County Agent Glenn Bragg will serve as MC following a steak dinner which begins at 6 p.m.

After the dinner, Wolf will cover "Selling a Service."

What today's customers want and expect from a business firm whether it is an outright service or a service which goes with a product will be developed. Methods and techniques for providing the service, to include pitfalls which plague many firms, will be discussed.

Dr. Hayenga will conclude the seminar with a period on "Managing Credit."

How to view the total credit picture of the firm, borrowed capital and extended credit, will be discussed. An approach to reviewing credit policy will be presented.

Techniques for managing accounts receivable will be discussed, to include methods for using early pay discounts more effectively.

Entry fee for the two night seminar is only $5 per person and the deadline has been extended to Friday, October 12. They may be mailed to the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 126, Hondo, Texas.

Road signs, slogans, corn shucking, dove hunting and wild game dinners held the spotlight at the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting Monday.

Directors whiped through a heavy agenda by adopting a slogan for 1974, approving sponsorship of the Corn Shucking Road Show, voting to back the Open House at Del Rio Flying Service and the Air Force Flying Training program and giving the green light to other projects.

"Buy in Hondo-1974" was the slogan adopted for the Chamber. This will be placed on bumper stickers and other items and distributed to members and other interested persons.

Directors also voted to give full support to the Corn Shucking champions when they go to Houston on December 1 and 2.

Locally, directors went on record supporting the November 10 Open House at the Del Rio Flying Service to pay tribute to the flying training program of the Air Force and welcome all personnel at the flying Service and the Air Force to Hondo.

Printing of an industrial facts folder was approved and will be off the press prior to the banquet in December. Larry Oefinger is in charge of this item.

Discussion was held on the Wild Game Dinner slated for November 24 at the Hondo City Park and the dove hunt which will be held prior to that time. Chairmen Bruce Foster and Kenneth Flory, said everything "is under control."

Chuck Hackebel reported that painting has begun on the road sign which the Chamber will erect east of town on property donated by John Poerner. It will read: "Have You Tried To Buy It In Hondo?" and should be in place by November 1.

Directors also approved printing of tickets for the Annual Banquet scheduled at McDowell School Cafeteria on Monday, December 3. Bob Murphey, East Texas humor-

Flood areas get special attention

Definite details on what is to be accomplished to help alleviate flooding in certain areas of Hondo will be hashed out Tuesday night, October 16 at a special meeting of the City Council.

Councilman Hilmer Mueller spoke up. "I am too. I thought we were going in there and clean the whole thing out."

An answer of "Clean the channel, including exits and entrances," brought no clarification.

So, Councilman Bud Gwartney said, "We need to sit down and decide exactly what we are going to do."

Mayor J. G. Barry asked the Councilmen as well as Henry Dominguez, Armando Dominguez and others present, "Will you be willing to make a special meeting on this subject on October 16?"

All answered "Yes," and the meeting is called for that purpose only.

Have a fun weekend

How about a fun weekend to Houston to see a country fair, college football and professional football?

It can be done on December 1 and 2 (that's a Saturday and Sunday) by signing up for the bus that will take Hondo's World Champion Corn Shuckers to a two day event billed as the "biggest Country Fair" in the country.

Roundtrip bus fare is only $10 per person and negotiations are going on to get reduced motel rates. Contact also was made with the Houston Oilers to see about getting a block of tickets for the Oiler-Oakland Raiders game on December 2. This can be done with tickets selling for $7 each.

Persons interested in making the two-day weekend of fun should contact Mrs. Lillian Porter at the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, 426-2015.

Henry Niethoefner reported on the upcoming Agribusiness Seminar which will be conducted by Kenneth Wolf and Dr. Wayne Heyenga Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the New Frontier Restaurant.

After hearing a report and suggestions from the City Auditor, City Councilmen got down to business Tuesday on a lengthy agenda that covered departmental reports, calling for bids on equipment, a proposed mobile home ordinance, ambulance service and flood insurance.

Reports given included:

ELECTRIC DEPARTMENT -- Gene Harrison told Council members that fuel adjustment costs from the San Antonio Public Service Board jumped again this past month to $12,743 -- an increase over the $12,236 the previous month. "This means about $4.48 additional on electric bills for each 1,000 kilowatt hours used," he said.

"Let's do some protesting of our own," said Councilman G. P. Chapman. "Everyone else is fighting this battle; I think the City of Hondo should write a letter to our Congressman and other officials."

Council approved the call of bids on a cab and chassis and a special bed for a truck to be used by the electric system.

They also approved sending Rudy DeLeon and Billy Halliburton to a special school at Texas A&M.

WATER DEPARTMENT -- Elmer Fasler said the city needs a new ditch digger as well as extensive repairs on the present one, which is being used by both the water department and the electric system.

"We use a digger much more than the electric system," he said. "And therefore the present one, ist, will be the speaker for this event and tickets will sell at $4 per person.

when repaired, will last them much longer."

Council approved the calling of bids on a digger with reservations on final approval once the cost is learned.

STREET DEPARTMENT -- Lloyd Hermes said that with the exception of some work in the Airbase area and on Avenue P the present street paving project is complete.

He also reported that tests look good for a sanitary landfill on the area picked northwest of town, but the earth there cannot be utilized for gravel.

Hermes then mentioned trash hauling and this brought on a good discussion.

"We discussed at one time about putting a charge on trash hauling," Councilman Stanga said.

Councilman Mueller wanted to know: "Will a charge bring about more trash dumping along the roads?"

After much discussion which included the information that all industries and many individuals now haul their own trash, it was decided: "If they (everyone) will haul their own, we are much better off than if the City had to pick it all up and haul it to the dump grounds."

them, the better our present constitution looks to me. "And remember, on some of their proposals Commission members passed them by very slim votes, and in our Convention the law requires we must have a two-thirds majority. Had the Commission rules required this, I don't believe they could have passed them either."

"I have read, as you have also, where the Speaker of the House has said that he hopes we can make this a 'clean' constitution, which means he wants to take all the politics out of it.

"I, for one, don't think we can take politics out of the final document. That means you are taking the people out of the Constitution -- you are writing a document you want them to have, not one they want. We can no more write a 'clean' constitution than we can change the weather.

"In fact, I don't know that we can write a document that two-thirds of the Convention will approve. I only hope that we will be able to come up with a document that will be 'clean' enough that it would be worthy of passing, but political enough for the people to approve.

"What do I mean political? Take the question of taxation. If that isn't political, then nothing is. The only fair tax to most people is the one that leaves them alone and taxes everyone else. Everything that comes up in the Legislature has political connotations, for it deals with and affects people. Every problem pertains to special interest, either individuals, groups or strong lobbies. So you can't take politics out of our constitution.

Representative Tim Von Dohlen

Rep. Von Dohlen is vice chairman of the House Arrangements Committee.

"The work of our committee divides into three phases, the pre-convention, convention, and post-convention and a principal task is to have public input to the delegates and information out to the public on what is taking place. Our plans call for a dedicated effort so that all media can have for dissemination to the public all the information that is possibly available.

"Representative Hale made a statement that I agree with whole-heartedly. I, too, feel that the amount of time it takes to study such a document is secondary to careful study and constructive debate. We want to be able to give the voters a well-debated and sound document, not one that was rushed through so we could be finished in 60, 70 or 90 days. But I do believe we can come up with a document we can send to the people.

"December 6-8 is the time for the Pre-Convention Seminar, with December 6 being Media Day. The other two days will be used for the delegates to hear all reports, plans for running the convention and other pertinent information."

ANOTHER PANEL

. . . at the same meeting in New Braunfels, covered three subjects on Thursday which were quite interesting.

Ken Cloninger

Cloninger of Shell Oil Company covered "The Energy Crisis—Real or Imagined?"

Cloninger staunchly stuck by the side of the oil companies and said "it is real" and then gave some figures to prove his point.

"As a nation with 16 percent of the world's population, we use 33 percent of the world's energy, and our use increases every year. That means we make heavy demands on the petroleum industry to provide that energy. We must import 367,000,000 barrels of distillate fuel to satisfy our country's needs this winter.

"The oil from the Alaskan slope will be great, but we won't begin receiving any of it until 1977 or 1978. Refineries are being expanded but again it will be years before they can produce a surplus to keep abreast of the increase in demands each year.

"We do not have a crisis. What we actually have is the beginning of a continuing problem. And it probably will get worse before it gets better.

"Some people say if prices go high enough we would have plenty of gasoline. That just isn't the case. The shortage is real. Back when the government clamped a lid on domestic prices, he companies looked to foreign exports for what they needed. In doing this, they naturally cut back on production at home. They were forced to curtail exploration due to lack of incentive. All of this has combined to the present day shortages."

Senator A. R. Schwartz

Senator Schwartz is the chairman of the Texas Council on Marine Related Affairs, and he discussed "Superports and Sunken Ships."

An avid protector of the coastal zone, Sen. Schwartz believes that superports will harm the area more than they will protect it. However, he believes that floating docks can be erected to offload oil from supertankers and pipe it into shore.

"This will prevent the disruption of marine life in those areas where tremendous dredging must be done to build a superport. And many persons feel this is true, for the recent meeting held for the public discussion of superports attracted more than 500 persons and several hundred had to be turned away due to a lack of space.

"Our coastal zone is fragile. It must be protected. For it to continue to provide recreation and livelihood for millions then we must stop the helter-skelter development, the pollution, the overcrowded conditions. We do not need more refineries along the coast. We do not need 50,000 homes on North Padre Island. We do not need any more subdivisions on any of the islands.

"We need to exercise 'Coastal Zone Management'. There is a distinct difference between 'Coastal Zone Management' and 'land use'. We must learn to separate the two when we plan on controls.

"A booklet prepared by the Governor's Office, Division of Planning Coordination, gives a comprehensive report on a 'Texas Coastal Resources Management Program'.

"One of the management programs initiated, or to be initiated soon, is the sunken ships project. We plan to purchase three old Liberty ships and sink them in areas where they will provide food and shelter for fishing banks.

"These will be different from the old cars used for such purpose several years ago. It was soon discovered that cars are light when they get in the water and they were found washed up on shore in many places. These ships will definitely not do that.

"Anyone wishing the above described booklet or other printing on the coastal zones may obtain them by writing the Texas Council on Marine Related Affairs, P. O. Box 2910, Austin, Texas."

Pam Giblin

Miss Giblin is Chief Counsel for the Texas Air Control Board.

Discussing "Can We Survive the EPA?" Miss Giblin brought out some very stark points concerning the restrictions advocated by the Environmental Protection Agency.

"First, EPA is directed by a single administrator appointed by the President. He does not answer to a board, nor to Congress. Neither does EPA have to publish notice of proposed changes like we do at the Texas Air Control Board.

"Some of the EPA proposals include: elimination of many downtown parking spaces, a restricted lane for bus travel on freeways, inspection of older cars, and gas rationing.

"These requirements are not only for urban areas, they include smaller towns also. What EPA really wants is for every Texan to reduce the use of his car by a certain amount each year.

"One point we in Texas are fighting EPA on is the 'non-degradation' ruling. This means if any area is under the requirements set by the clean air act, then EPA says nothing can be done in that community to endanger that status.

"In other words, this means that if such a ruling is applied without change, rural development is down the drain over this country. And since we feel that rural development can be instrumental in alleviating many urban ills, we are filing suit against EPA to prevent this ruling from becoming a law—the arbitrary law of one man."

KEEPING IN TUNE

. . . with their panels and the thoughts expressed there, the South Texas Chamber passed the following resolutions:

1] Support the concept of equal and equitable public education for every school child in Texas and commend Governor Dolph Briscoe on his program and his stand on not calling a special session for this purpose before it receives thorough study.

2] Endorsement of a system of Zero Base Budgeting which will make every department in the state re-examine every program each two years.

3] To de-control natural gas prices.

Ordinance rejected

Mobile home owners, or would-be owners, can breathe easy for a while. The proposed ordinance to keep mobile homes out of certain areas in town is dead, temporarily at least.

City Attorney Hugh Meyer read a proposed ordinance, which he had been instructed to write at a previous meeting, that would have prohibited mobile homes from being placed in any area in Zone A-Residential.

After much discussion by council members and residents in the audience this ordinance was voted down.

And on a motion of Councilman R. V. Stanga Council voted to maintain situation which requires that a person must have 6,000 square feet of space before erecting any building. It also requires the approval of all residences within 200 feet of the property.

Aelvoet honored

Frank Aelvoet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Aelvoet of Hondo, was nominated by the Texas FFA Association to receive the highest FFA award, the American Farmer degree.

Pending a final vote by student delegates to the national convention of FFA, Frank will be presented the degree in special ceremonies Thursday, October 18, in Kansas City, Mo.

He earned the degree through his supervised farming program, his leadership ability, and his cooperative activities throughout his high school career.

Projects Frank undertook included truck farming, from which he entered specimens in the South Texas Vegetable Show in San Antonio; as well as other farming and livestock programs.

Frank is only the tenth student from the Hondo FFA chapter to be nominated for this award.

WILLIAM REUS, Hondo's Outstanding Young Farmer for 1973, is presented the Area Star Young Farmer trophy by William Roeder of Fredericksburg, newly elected Area President for the Young Farmers, at the Area VII Awards Banquet held in New Braunfels on Saturday night, September 22. Reus will compete for state honors with other Area winners at the Young Farmers State Convention in San Antonio in January.

William Reus is eligible for state title

Local members of the Hondo Young Farmer Chapter are certainly pulling for William Reus to grab a state title.

Reus recently garnered the honor of Area VII Outstanding Young Farmer, and is among 10 such selectees who will vie for the state title.

Reus' application showing his farming program and good farm records brought about his selection for the area honor. He is farming over 940 acres of cultivated land with 260 acres in irrigation. His main cash crops are irrigated corn and milo, wheat and oats. He also has some beef cattle utilizing that part of his farm that is not suitable for cultivation.

William and Mrs. Reus and their three children live at 1206 Oak Lane in Hondo. In addition to his farming program Reus has devoted much time to the betterment of his community by serving in farm organizations and in his local church.

He served as Young Farmer president, vice president and treasurer and has attended several State and Area Young Farmer conventions. He presently serves the Medina County Farm Bureau as secretary-treasurer.

In St. Paul's Lutheran Church he has been a member of the church choir, served as Sunday School superintendent, on the church council and is presently secretary of the council.

Reus also has been active in county extension committees over the past 10 years.

That is the record that will vie against 9 other Area Young Farmers in the state convention slated for January, 1974.

In signing the proclamation, the Judge urged

The future is rapidly becoming the present and what are we going to do in the year 2000 when it's predicted our nation's population may have increased to nearly four hundred million.

How are we going to feed all these people? Where are we going to put them? It adds up to a big problem.

We of America's nearly 1,000 rural electric systems know that any workable solution to the problem depends on ample electric power at reasonable cost. We provide that power in most of rural America ... and, as a small but vigorous part of the over-all electric industry, we'll help provide all America with the power it takes to feed, clothe, and house all Americans.

It's a monumental job, and there's no time to waste getting on with it. It's later than we think.

Home demonstration clubs, numbering 1,397 in Texas with more than 20,000 members are sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System and the U. S. Department of Agriculture cooperating.

Extension Service sponsors local clubs throughout Texas - which focus on the needs of homemakers in their counties - as a part of a statewide educational effort to bring the latest information on homemaking to all families in Texas.

D'Hanis student in UTSA work-study

Linda Rodriguez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Rodriguez of D'Hanis, has been named the first work-study student at the new University of Texas at San Antonio.

She is working 20 hours per week in the Office of Instructional Services, where she aids in the production of instructional graphics and bilingual materials, schedules the use of equipment and catalogs slides and film.

Miss Rodriguez is a full-time student at UTSA. She is working toward an M.A. Degree in English as a Second Language.

"Linda's work will give her the opportunity to apply the theory she is learning," said Dr. Larrie Gale, Associate Director of the Office of Instructional Services.

Miss Rodriguez became interested in audio/visual and other instructional materials when student teaching last year. She graduated from Sam Houston State University last spring with a B.A. degree in English and Spanish. She also holds a teaching certificate.

Miss Rodriguez graduated in 1969 from D'Hanis High School where she was an honor student.

UTSA recently was awarded a College Work Study Program Grant for $87,960. As many as 66 students could qualify for the work-study program.

"It is the intent of the program to provide students with experience related to their area of educational interest as well as with a source of income," said UTSA President Peter T. Flawn.

Iota Upsilon Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Woodrow Glascock on Tuesday, October 9 at 8 p.m. Mrs. Fred Bader assisted as co-hostess.

Continuing our theme of the year, "Love and Concern", the program was "Something in the Air."

This very interesting program on ecology was given by guest speaker, Mrs. Barbara Bohls.

Mrs. Dolores Wilson, president, conducted the business meeting. The chapter will continue its monthly financial support of M.C.A.E.C. and will continue buying shoes for needy school children.

The meeting adjourned to delicious refreshments served by the hostesses.

Said the calendar in plain black-and-white, "Sunday, Sept. 23, First Day of Fall."

Summer seems to have met that with, "Oh, yeah?" and has been holding on tenaciously ever since. Rains have made the heat bearable.

By way of an extra dividend flowers are blossoming anew, aware of what the first frost might do to them, reminding us of how faithful they have been all summer and perhaps promising they'll be standing by for repeat performances come spring.

Arbor Day in the U. S. is a spring holiday observed in some states [Texas included] by planting trees. Austria goes us one better.

This month, Vienna will celebrate a special "Day of the Tree" when everyone in that capital city [especially the children] is invited to join the festivities and help plant some 6,500 deciduous trees, conifers, shrubs and evergreens all over the city.

It is estimated that during this year some 24,000 trees, etc., will be added to Vienna's already extensive parks and gardens.

Might be an idea here [on a less grandiose scale] for our enterprising garden clubs in Texas.

"Pen names" were popular with the ANVIL HERALD's area correspondents in the early 19-teens. Here are some whose columns appeared with regularity except on those occasions which, as one explained: "No news this week. I have asked who, when, why, what, where, and how come? but folks were too busy or not in the mood for giving out information. SO, More Anon" "Blue Belle" reported the LaCoste Laconics; "Tugger" was responsible for Buck Hill Billets; "Narrator" narrated the New Fountain News. Occasional releases stemmed from "Upper Hondo Handouts" and "Rio Medina Round ups" and carried no credit line. Their anonymity was duly respected.

Hondo can boast of two winners among the list of competing finalists in the Texas Dept. of Agriculture's Texas Grain-fed Beef Cook-off Recipes. A copy of the booklet was presented to me.

Maybe when beef gets back within regular price range of the kitchen range, I can try some. Meantime, congratulations to LESLIE MUENNINK and ROBIN SAATHOFF, who stirred up the winners.

When games and contests provided most of the entertainment for home parties Snip, Snap, Snorem was "in popular favor with local hostesses", according to the society column of 60 years ago.

So also was a round-robin game called Hish-Hash-Hosh. The rules must be explained or you'd never believe it.

One third of the group said HISH, in unison. The second third said HASH and then the 3rd third came in with the loudest H-O-S-H! The results, as reported, resulted in the sound of a tremendous sneeze.

Should have gone over big during hayfever season.

When a local couple were on a camping trip last summer, their equipment included a 20-inch skillet. The husband suggested that when his Sept. 27 birthday rolled around, he'd like a chocolate cream pie just that size.

His wife remembered and baked one in that very skillet. The recipe required 32 eggs, 20 cups of milk, 10 cups of sugar and a box each of cornstarch and cocoa to fill the king-sized crust.

WARD [Mrs. Paul] POPE and EUNICE [Mrs. B. L.] KOLLMAN admit that chocolate pie is temptation hard to resist. If I can get the exact recipe, maybe they'd like to have it and divide half-and-half. Remember, I said MAYBE!

Last year's peanut crop surplus cost taxpayers $70 million last year. This year the figure is expected to jump to $537 million and is driving Secretary Earl Butz crazy. "You can quote me on that," he said according to a news story.

"NUTZ," says BUTZ. . . only he didn't really. I just threw in a free head for the story, and wonder how the situation will affect area peanut producers.

Livers presented health problems in 1913 and many probably still do. Laboratories producing medical relief for such were not overly-modest in outlining their claims through ads supporting the distributors of their products.

One Hondo drug store offered "Hot Springs Liver Buttons to put balky livers and upset stomachs back in prime conditions. "Remember" said the ad, "a healthy liver makes beauty. Sometimes a man thinks he's in love when it's only his liver acting up."

A piñata was enjoyed and refreshments of hot dogs, chips, candy, cake and punch were served to the forty-five guests.

Mr. and Mrs. George Whitten and Rhonda, San Antonio, came out Friday and joined her sister and family, the Lenard Dosseyes for the Mexican supper at the Natalia school cafeteria and the ball game between the Natalia Mustangs and the Blanco Panthers. The score was 2 to 0 in favor of the Panthers.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Fohn, Jr., and Tammy, spent the weekend in Corpus Christi as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wauson. Ralph Zerr and Donald Scott of Natalia also visited the Wausons.

Word has been received that Henry Langfeld, a lifelong resident of D'Hanis, died in Corpus Christi early this week. He had been in a Corpus Christi rest home for several years.

Edwards well levels set record

To the amazement of experts who have studied the Edwards Underground Reservoir for more than thirty years, water levels and spring discharges continue to break previous high records month after month. Unseasonably heavy rains have contributed to the record flow of underground water in the Reservoir, which feeds an area from Brackettville through Hondo, northeast to Kyle in Hays County.

At the end of September, seven or eight index wells, all but the one at Kyle, established new all-time high water levels.

Discharge from San Antonio and San Pedro Springs is so intermittent that it is estimated, but not measured. But for the past two months, San Antonio Springs have discharged a large amount of water from every crack and crevice. Leona Springs near Uvalde, and Comal and San Marcos Springs recorded their largest discharge on record in September.

Hondo's city well, one of the eight index wells, is also at a record high level -- only 207 feet below the surface, a rise of almost four feet since August.

Welding short course set

An arc welding short course will be held at Hondo High School October 15-18.

Instructor for the course will be Joel R. Barton, Jr., welding specialist of Texas A&M University Agricultural Education Department. Barton holds two degrees from A&M in agriculture.

Barton joined the Texas Adult Education Specialist Program at A&M in 1959.

Barton will be available to students enrolled in the short course for discussing special welding operations throughout the four days he is here.

Visitors are welcome at the classes, but enrollees will receive first consideration. Classes will start at 8 p.m. Monday, October 15. Registration fee is $5.

These specialist programs are available to adults in Texas through a working agreement with the Texas Education Agency and the Agricultural Engineering and Agricultural Education Departments at A&M, and local high schools teaching vocational agriculture.

Those interested in taking the arc welding program should contact Vo-Ag teachers J. D. Schmidt or John McAnally. Certificates will be awarded to those completing the four-night course.

Cowboys beat Tigers 35-6

The D'hanis Cowboys bounced back from their first defeat at Comfort as they handily defeated the Brackettville Tigers 35-6 Saturday night at D'hanis.

The Cowboys took an early lead in the contest, but Brackettville stayed in range with a touchdown by Butch Hadsell in the first quarter. That quarter ended with D'hanis leading 13-6.

The second quarter saw all the rest of the scoring, as the Cowboys piled up 22 more points to take a 35-6 halftime lead. D'hanis substituted freely in the second half, with Ronny Rothe moved to quarterback, and Ronny Koch in a halfback role for the first time.

Both sides succeeded in keeping the other out of the end zone throughout the second half, and the game ended 35-6 D'hanis.

Scoring four times for the Cowboys was Quarterback Bobby Joe Rothe. All four of his touchdown runs followed long drives, and all went in from within the twelve-yard line.

Rounding out the D'hanis scoring was Richard Rothe, who took a handoff and went in for six points. Four of five extra point tries, one a run attempt, were good.

Saturday night the Cowboys meet St. Anthony's of San Antonio at 8 p.m. at D'hanis Cowboy Stadium.

Sooners to wham Longhorns in Dallas, so says Harmon

Our vote for the roughest schedule among out top teams - at least over a period of three weeks - would have to go to Oklahoma. The 4th-ranked Sooners played road trip! Last year, the Sooners whipped Texas, 27-0, and this year they're favored by 6 points. The Longhorns are rated 15th in the nation.

Alabama booms on in pursuit of the Southeast Conference championship. The Tide is still Number Two in our ratings, and if they follow form - which they have a consistent habit of doing - they'll whip Florida this week by 34 points.

Another power with title hopes in the Southeast is Tennessee. The Volunteers are #12 in the country, and are matched against independent Georgia Tech. Tennessee won't have an easy day against the Engineers, but they'll win it by 19 points.

On the West Coast, the once-tied Trojans of Southern Cal go after another conference win. They meet Washington State, and again they may make hard work of winning. The 6th-ranked Trojans are favored by 21 points.

Two weeks ago, Nebraska almost stumbled over the Badgers of Wisconsin, winning by just 4 points with a touchdown in the closing minutes. 3rd-ranked Ohio State runs into those same Badgers this week, and it's no secret that Wisconsin is looking for an upset. Last year, the Buckeyes had a tendency to loaf through the easier games - and they came close to losing one or two. This year it hasn't been that way, and it had better not be in this one... Ohio State to top Wisconsin by nineteen.

Frosh

The Hondo Freshman team came close to gaining its first victory of the year Thursday as they lost a close one to the Fredericksburg Frosh, 14-12.

Showing improved play, the Owl Freshmen scored twice on Clay Braden touchdown passes.

They will meet the Medina Valley Freshmen today at 6 p.m. at Barry Field.

B-Team, Freshmen lose to Fred'sburg ericksburg Junior Varsity, 12-0.

This evening, they will be played at Barry Field. The first contest between the two teams resulted in a 12-0 victory by the Hondo squad.

Owls back on track; wring out Cotulla 21-0

The Owls took a victory in their opening district game Friday night, whitewashing Cotulla 21-0 on a sodden field.

Though no rain fell during the game, the turf was soaked from recent showers, and by game's end white and maroon jerseys looked alike.

It was the first victory in three outings for the Owls, who showed an overhauled offensive squad for the district opener.

Starting in place of regular quarterback, Brian Finger, was Bobby Rios, and he played the entire game for Hondo. He proved to be quite a bad-weather runner, too; he set up the Owls' second touchdown with a 16-yard run to the Cotulla 7-yard line (he fumbled, but Paul Pope was there to cover it). Rios finished the night with a pass completion record of 5 completions for only 5 attempts. Another the Owls substituting in offensive switch saw Richard Coronado playing tight end in place of Doug Helvey.

After the Owls had endured two uneventful possessions in the first quarter and a lost fumble, fullback Tony Hackebeil broke loose on first down at the Hondo 19 and rambled 83 yards for the first score of the night. Though the point-after run was not successful, Hondo led 6-0 with 10:19 remaining in the second quarter.

After the Owls stopped a Cotulla drive on their own 28-yard line, they drove 72 yards in the final three minutes of the half, and Tony Hackebeil busted over from the 2-foot line with a bare second left in the half. This time Rios' bootleg run was good, and Hondo took a halftime lead, 14-0.

Hondo's last score came in the fourth quarter as the Owls substituting in Statistics of the game are as follow: (Hondo first):

First Downs, 13-11; Yards rushing, 188-161; Passes (Yards) 4-5 for 48, 1-8 for 16 yards; Fumbles lost, 1-0; Penalties (Yards) 3 for 35, 4 for 22.

Antlerless deer permits to be issued Oct. 29-31

Game Management Officer August Timmerman announced recently that antlerless deer permits for Medina County will be issued at the Courthouse in Hondo on October 29-31.

The three-day period should be sufficient for all landowners to come by and pick up the permits, which are issued according to doe population in the county.

Timmerman notes that there is an abundance in the county of deer, but "they're going to be hard to find until after the first frost. The heavy vegetation is providing lots of cover for them, and they don't need to move to far to browse."

Commenting on other game animals, Timmerman stated "Quail should be in good numbers this fall. They've had good protection all summer."

"We have a few doves again, now. They're mostly hanging around the places where corn is being harvested."

"Turkey are not too plentiful. There was not much of a hatch of young turkeys this spring."

The defense, a 4-3 setup, also shows good size, especially in guard Mark Stein, 180 pounds, and linebacker Calvin Lang, also at 180. Adding beef to the line are right guard Ted Mendoza may be able to play again too, say the coaches, although he did not see action against Cotulla. There were no further injuries during the Cotulla game.

Panther fans look ahead to Friday nite

The shortest year in history is about to draw to an end for the Medina Valley fans.

It was only 52 Fridays ago tomorrow that the Angry Orange edged the Owls for the first time, 21-20, and lo and behold, here it is time for another game already.

As if to set the stage, both teams posted identical 2-2 pre-district records. And, while the Owls were slogging to a victory last week over Cotulla, the Orangemen were resting and preparing full-time for their district-opener-foe, which is us.

Medina Valley's Panthers for 1973 look on paper exactly like the dangerous team they have turned out to be.

Quarterback Mickey Holzhaus, a Junior who saw JV experience last season, leads the Orange attack which features strong set, Power I and pre-set formations. He leans toward a balanced running attack among Jesse Alinas, Wayne Schuchart, and Michael Kwapich, all of whom have good size and speed; and Holzhaus can pass when the occasion demands it - usually to ends Chris Schuchart and Gary Daniels.

Will the same team start this Friday? "Probably not. We'll probably start Brian Finger Friday, and Doug Helvey may be back at tight end."

Ted Mendoza may be able to play again too, say the coaches, although he did not see action against Cotulla. There were no further injuries during the Cotulla game.

LADIES TOURNEY WINNERS

These three teams took the honors in a Ladies Golf tournament held Tuesday at the Hondo Golf Course. Front row is the first place foursome. They are [l-r] Toni Ward, Cappi Heyen, Sue Ann Graff, and Mary Ann Downing. Second place [second row]: Pam Kayser, Brenda Heilig, Amy Carter, Emma Fell. Third place [back row]: Billy Gonet, Lavina Oberlander, Kathryn Bywaters, Inez Short.
